UNFAIR CONTRACT TERMS

Do your contracts contain 'unfair terms'?

Prepare now for the new legislation which comes into effect this year on 12 November, 2016.
(changes to the Australian Consumer Law).

The new laws are designed to protect Small Businesses (employing less than 20 people) from "unfair terms" in standard form contracts. This could significantly impact the construction and infrastructure sector, where standard form contracts are common and many subcontractors, suppliers and service providers are small businesses.

This 2 hour course conducted by Western Australia's largest independent law firm, Jackson McDonald, is a must attend for all working in the construction industry.

Topics covered in further details:

- ❖ What do I need to know?
- ❖ What is the new law?
- ❖ Does this apply to my contracts?
- ❖ Does the new law impact my existing contracts?
- ❖ What terms may be "unfair"?
- ❖ So what if they are unfair?
- ❖ So what should/could I do about it?
