Builders Welcome Metronet Consultation

The Master Builders Association has welcomed the decision of the Planning, Transport and Lands Minister, Rita Saffioti to establish a Metronet Reference Group.

Master Builders Director Michael McLean said that Metronet was a significant infrastructure project which required a lot of careful planning and risk management analysis to capitalize on its potential.

“Metronet will mean different things to different people, so it is a wise decision on the McGowan government’s part to consult with the major stakeholder groups as the project evolves,” Mr McLean said.

“Whilst the Metronet public transport infrastructure is being developed, it is important to plan ahead to ensure that adjoining land is being put to optimal use for the betterment of taxpayers and the community at large.

“Master Builders looks forward to participating on the Metronet Reference Group which is likely to consider some complex planning issues but should adopt an innovative approach to ensure that Metronet is remembered as a truly iconic project.”
